Finding that it would be impossible for some of the tenants to move in the time prescribed by the option the Chamber of Commerce yesterday notified the First National Bank Building Corporation that it could not then agree to positively release the building on April 1, as the option provides vides. A meeting of the syndicate was called and it was agreed that the Chamber be allowed ten days more, so the final answer will be delivered February 20. Though it is not yet assured that the tenants in question will be able to secure quarters, it was said by members of both the syndicate and the Chamber of Commerce that the building probably would be vacated and turned over to the corporation by April 1 or a short while thereafter.

TO TRANSFER LAND BUY THOSE MULES

Can't Pay for Animals Already Bought.

The meeting of the Council Committee on Street Cleaning scheduled for last night was postponed to next Thursday night. The long debated question of mules which has involved the department in various investiga-the department in various investigations, is in another tangle. There are no funds available with which to pay for the mules.

Just before Christmas, Superintendent Henry Coin reported to the committee that by economy the department had saved about $1,200 of its expense account for the year, and he thought it would be a good thing to invest it in mules, rather than let it go back to the treasury. The mules were bought; the Sweeney charges against Alderman Bennett followed, with an investigation in which the Alderman was vindicated; the nules were kept at the city stables, tried, swapped for others, and when the thirty-first day of January passed, Auditor Warren closed his books and the balance reverted to the general fund. Now the mules cannot be paid for until the new budget is adopted, providing an expense account for the department, and it may be that the Council will have to authorize the payment of a 1916 account out of the 1911 appropriation.
